PENNSYLVANIA PERFORMING ARTS ON TOUR

NEWLANDERS

SONGS AND STORIES OF LIFE, LOVE, AND LABOR CELEBRATING THE HUMAN SPIRIT

The NewLanders have researched and rediscovered songs that capture the American experience. By interweaving traditional instruments, including the Appalachian lap dulcimer, fiddle, and mandolin, with richly layered harmonies and electric guitar, bass and percussion, the NewLanders have created a contemporary sound, while honoring and preserving the inspiring stories of the past. A NewLanders' performance includes engaging narrations and real-life accounts from the mills, mines, rivers, and fields of their home region, western Pennsylvania, along with haunting songs that poignantly illustrate and celebrate the enduring spirit that built our nation.

Celebrate history through folk music!

Born of Fire: Songs of Steel and Industry

The sounds, sights, and songs of the steel mills come alive in this multimedia program, featuring paintings, etchings, and photographs of the industrial era (Images courtesy of the Westmoreland Museum American Art, Greensburg, PA).

Where the Allegheny Flows

Songs and stories culled from historic collections and regional folklore offer a unique glimpse into the lives of the settlers, farmers, adventurers, and wanderers who claimed the land west of the Allegheny Mountains for their own.
